Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mother of Former CIA Deputy Chief

Mrs. Lyman B. Kirkpatrick, 85, mother of a former deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, died at the Oakton (Va.) Nursing Home Friday after a long illness.

Before moving there two years ago, Mrs. Kirkpatrick lived at 3358 Martha Custis Drive, Alexandria.

Her son, Lyman B. Kirkpatrick Jr., was deputy director of the CIA while it was headed by John McCone, and the last two years has been a professor of political science at Brown University.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, the former Llyde Paull, was born in Wheeling, W. Va., and lived in Rochester, N.Y. before coming here about 15 years ago. Her husband is a retired real estate broker.

Besides her son and husband, Mrs. Kirkpatrick leaves a daughter, Mrs. Robbins Milbank of Nelson, N.H., and four grandchildren.

Services were held yesterday at the Truno Episcopal Church in Fairfax. Burial is to be later this week in Rochester, N.Y.
